Killed in Action Aug 11/18

"Cassin was in my battalion and was killed in 4th battle of the Somme, about 8 kilos to the other side of Amiens. He was cutting barb wire and was hit by a piece of shrapnel. Just lived a few minutes. I saw them burying him in the Albert Amiens road about 2 kilos from where he fell. Grave is marked with cross and tag. Think he lived in Chicago, and trained at Camp Logan, Tex. He was 22 or 23 years old, 6 ft. 150 lbs, rather dark hair. Think he was a musician."

CASE OF: (CASSIN, 1393993 Matthew J (MATHEWS, J. C.
Pvt. 108th Engrs. Co. E.

There is a discrepancy in the name of the above-mentioned man.

The Adjutant General's records and Forms 1-A show the name as CASSIN, 1393993 Matthew J. but the A.R.C. cards and photographs of the cross show MATHEWS, J.C.

It is requested that a letter be written to France directing a change in the inscription of the cross to agree with the above record.

Information concerning return of body.

1. In reply to your letter of July 3rd 1920, you are advised that the American Military Cemetery Vaux-sur-Somme, Department of the Somme, where the body of your son is buried lies within the "Zone of the Armies". Operations for the removal of our soldier dead from this zone will not begin until September 15th, 1920. It will be realized that a reasonable length of time must necessarily elapse before the return of the body can be expected. However, you will be notified by telegram when the body leaves a French port and again on its arrival at Hoboken, N.J., so that the necessary detailed plans may be made for final burial.

2. The photographic section of the American Red Cross, attached to this office, will be instructed to furnish you with a photograph of the grave.

SOCIETY AT THE OPERA

Spaces which oftimes yawn on "regular night" were filled with the crême de la crême of society last night for the Chicago premiere of a favorite opera. Brilliant gowns and jewels made for a gala appearance in the parterre, where many of those who have boxes on subscription nights preferred to sit, perhaps for a change, perhaps to get a better er—a—perspective.

Preceding the third act Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, who with Mrs. Wood heard the opera from back stage, made a talk on behalf of Hoover's European children's fund; nurses from the Presbyterian hospital passed through the audience with cards and boxes for offerings to this emergent need. Mrs. Russell Tyson and Mrs. Arthur Ryerson, who are active in Mr. Hoover's Chicago committee, were early arrivals and assisted in presenting the cause to the public.

With Mrs. John Ryerson were Mr. and Mrs. George H. Clarke of Coopers-town, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. John Alden Carpenter, Robert Allerton, and John B. Ryerson.

Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Fairbank, Mrs. Harry Shearson, and Oren E. Taft were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Insull.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barney Goodspeed, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wheeler, and Miss Elizabeth Farwell were together.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Carry were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Hale Holden and Mr. and Mrs. Frederic W. Upham.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Tyson and J. Dorr Bradley occupied a box together. With Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Cudahy were Dr. and Mrs. Hugh T. Patrick and Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Pauling.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hulbert had with them Mrs. George Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hancock, and Mrs. John Hamline.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Reynolds were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Eckhart and Mr. and Mrs. Earle H. Reynolds.

Miss Abigail Harding, sister of President Elect Warren G. Harding, Dr. and Mrs. John A. Wessner, Judge and Mrs. Theodore Brentano, and H. G. Wessner, the latter of Saginaw, Mich., occupied a box.

With Harold F. McCormick and Miss Muriel McCormick were Mrs. W. H. Scriven, Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr., and Harold Fowler McCormick.

American performance at Orchestra hall yesterday, was in his turning for his titles to the pseudo science that still flourishes in the east, astrology. For nowhere in his rhythmically concise and harmonically compact composition does one find the sinuous whine, the perfumed exotic music of the orientak.

He is patently a disciple of the Mittel Europa school of music making that has its sturdy root in Bach and its vivid blossom in Richard Strauss. His orchestration is devoted to sound in the mass that we have come to recognize and a distinctly Teutonic symphonic idiom. There is nothing fugitive about his melodic lines. Wagner's "Traume" constituted one of them in the second section, called "Venus, the Bringer of Peace."

His rhythmic figures are fascinating, curious and irresistible. The demonic insistent martial pulse of the first fragment, "Mars, Bringer of War," was the most vital sample. As a creator of musical atmosphere, Mr. Holst is not quite absolute. "Neptune," heralded on the program as "the mystic," would come out just as well under the title of "A Pleasant Day." The silken shimmering veil of mysticism has nothing in common with the straightforward melodic bit. Also his "Mercury, the Winged Messenger," sounded much more like a carousal among a select coterie of gnomes and dwarfs blind from living in the darkness than symbolic of this mythical exponent of speed.

"Uranus, the Magician," sixth in the list, was a bit of conventional and effective musical necromancy.

Mr. Holst should not be listed among the younger English composers. First, because he is almost twice the age of Bax and Goossens; then his outlook, since his fairy godmother left out the precious gift of a child's heart at his christening, is staid, scientific, capable and prosaic and effective, and last but not least, his music melodically and harmonically shows the heavy marks of the bygone musical great.

Of the seven fragments of this suite the two that we would go out of our way to hear again were those designated as "Mars" and "Uranus." But "The Planets" should be a most de-sicianship the flashes of fire and emotional vividness, and the courteous charm of manner that have made Fanny Bloomfield Zeisler both great and beloved. This Chicago pianist is an institution and needs no recommendation from this department.

Yesterday, after we had been formally introduced to the Holst work, she appeared as soloist, playing Rubinstein concerto No. 4 in D minor. Those of you who hear her this evening should mark how in the last movement of that composition she does something that the usual pianist has neither brains or the ability to do. It was that bit where she procures the effect of a perfect pizzicato (or plucked strings) from her instrument.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER. "Happy" New Year Callers.

Happy New Year was an empty phrase to Winnie Winkle. Out of work, prices high, and prospects of getting work poor, Winnie's outlook on the New Year was anything but happy. She smiled through her tears as she responded to the good wishes of her friends. She could even smile at old man Ganzy.

Later in the afternoon, Simon Konshus called, and for an hour Winnie forgot the pangs that were tugging at her heart. She tried, oh so hard, to encourage the bashful Simon, but he could not even summon up the courage to start the New Year right. He bid Winnie a kissless good-by, amid profuse blushes.

Simon had hardly gone, when a knock came at the door. Another New Year's caller, thought Winnie as she flung open the door. It was the landlord, who had called to wish her a happy New Year, and, among other things, it being the first of the month, to present his bill for the rent.

Winnie was mortified. If this wasn't the height of nerve! She slammed the door shut and rushed to her room in a fury. "Of all the hard boiled eggs! It isn't bad enough to be out of a job on Near Year's, but Mr. Poison, the landlord, has to sail in with the bad news."

MUSIC and the MUSICIANS

BY RUTH MILLER.

The only place Mr. Holst's devotion to the oriental subject bobbed up in his suite for large orchestra, "The Planets," which was given its first American performance at Orchestra hall yesterday, was in his turning for his titles to the pseudo science that still flourishes in the east, astrology. For nowhere in his rhythmically concise and harmonically compact composition does one find the sinuous whine, the perfumed exotic music of the oriental.

Of the seven fragments of this suite the two that we would go out of our way to hear again were those designated as "Mars" and "Uranus." But "The Planets" should be a most dependable and successful addition to the orchestra repertoire. It contains all the platitudes of greatness.

It would be an impertinence to expound at great length on the satin touch, the certain fingers, the musicianship the flashes of fire and emotional vividness, and the courteous charm of manner that have made Fanny Bloomfield Zeisler both great and beloved. This Chicago pianist is an institution and needs no recommendation from this department.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER. "Happy" New Year Callers.

Happy New Year was an empty phrase to Winnie Winkle. Out of work, prices high, and prospects of getting work poor. Winnie's outlook on the New Year was anything but happy. She smiled through her tears as she responded to the good wishes of her friends. She could even smile at old man Ganzy.

Later in the afternoon, Simon Konshus called, and for an hour Winnie forgot the pangs that were tugging at her heart. She tried, oh so hard, to encourage the bashful Simon, but he could not even summon up the courage to start the New Year right. He bid Winnie a kissless good-by, amid profuse blushes.

Simon had hardly gone, when a knock came at the door. Another New Year's caller, thought Winnie as she flung open the door. It was the landlord, who had called to wish her a happy New Year, and, among other things, it being the first of the month, to present his bill for the rent.

Winnie was mortined. If this wasn't the height of nerve! She slammed the door shut and rushed to her room in a fury. "Of all the hard boiled eggs! It isn't bad enough to be out of a job on Near Year's, but Mr. Poison, the landlord, has to sail in with the bad news."

active service SAME AS ABOVE to _____.

☐ _____ was honorably retired _____ by reason of permanent physical disability incurred in line of duty, but not as a result of armed conflict or an instrumentality of war. The percentage of disability is _____.

☐ Report of separation physical is attached.

☐ The medical records/information pertaining to discharge you requested:

- ☐ Are enclosed. ☐ Are not in file.
- ☐ Have been lent to the Veterans Administration and
  - ☐ Will be forwarded under separate cover.
  - ☐ May be obtained from the VA office shown below. (Please refer to VA Claim No. C- _____.)

☒ The military record needed to answer this inquiry is not in our files. If the record was here on July 12, 1973, it would have been in the area that suffered the most damage in the fire here on that date and may have been destroyed. There are alternate record sources available:

- ☐ which can be used to verify two week periods of active duty for training (ADT) for Army and Air Force personnel; it is also possible to verify reserve service other than ADT for Army personnel only. In order to assist us, please furnish dates of reserve service or ADT or both (month, day, and year) and complete organizational assignments (company, battalion, regiment or squadron, group, wing). After receipt of the requested data, we will search all available records sources.
- ☒ but these sources do not contain the particular type of information requested. We regret that we cannot be of assistance in this matter.

☒ The information shown above was obtained from alternate record sources. We are unable to reconstruct complete records.

KNOX PRESENTS WORLD PEACE AS MADE IN THE U. S.

Would Defend Civilization If Menaced Again.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Marion, O., Dec. 30.—[Special.]—Senator Philander C. Knox, Pennsylvania, who came to Marion today at the request of President Elect Harding to discuss international policies, presented a memorandum to Mr. Harding outlining a new foreign policy which would make America the "potential ally of the defenders of liberty whenever a great menace shall arise," and at the same time avoid entangling the United States politically with Europe. It is Senator Knox's substitute for the league of nations, which, in his opinion, will not be revived in any form by Mr. Harding as president.

The Knox doctrine will be in the form of an addendum to his original peace resolution, vetoed by President Wilson, which will be offered again at the special session next March.

Would Put U. S. on Guard.

The amendment is substantially as follows:

"It is the declared policy of the United States, in order to meet fully and facilely our obligations to ourselves and to the world, that, the freedom and peace of Europe being again threatened by any power or combination of powers, the United States will regard such a situation with grave concern, as a menace to its own peace and freedom, will consult with other powers affected with a view to devising means for the removal of such menace, and will, the necessity arising in the future, cooperate with the friends of civilization for its defense."

Such a policy, Mr. Knox said, might prove worthy to serve with the Monroe doctrine as a fundamental doctrine of American diplomacy. It might have prevented the war of 1914. It would interfere in no way with the Harding plan for codification of international law, with the creation of a court to decide international differences of a justiciable character, nor with the appointment of commissions to investigate political questions that threaten war, with proposals for disarmament, nor with other measures that might be agreed on by the nations to lessen the probability of war.

Not to Touch Old League.

Mr. Knox spoke of the rumor current in Washington that Mr. Harding intended to go into the league of nations in some form, a rumor undoubtedly started by Marion visitors who did not appraise Mr. Harding's affability in listening to their views.

"I never credited it," Mr. Knox said, "because I could not imagine how he could misconstrue the mandate of the people and back track on the speeches he delivered during the campaign. I am convinced by my talk with him this morning that he has no such idea in mind."

If Senator Knox should be appointed

Flag Draped Caskets Here for Burial.

There were no cheers, no waving of flags, no crushing embraces. The long train rolled slowly to a stop in the La Salle street station at 9 o'clock last night. More than fifty of Chicago's hero band were home. Home in flag covered caskets.

As the train crew opened the baggage car doors, a detail of uniformed soldiers marched down the long platform. At each car two guards left the formation and took posts beside the doors. They came to present arms as the coffins were removed from the cars.

Twelve Gold Star mothers waited inside the gate. There were a few tears, but only a few. More than two years of waiting had prepared the women. They gave hurried orders, and in a short time had left the station. The heroes' bodies will be taken to homes and undertaking rooms this morning.

One hundred and fifty bodies arrived on the train. Over a third of them were Chicago boys.

Frank J. Halsey of 506 North Pine avenue, said to be an official of Goss Printing company, was locked up at the Warren avenue police station last night on complaint of Juanita Cooley of 2916 Washington boulevard.

Halsey is a married man. But, according to Miss Cooley's story, his affections wandered from the home fireside. For several months, she said, he has been trying to force his attentions on her.

Last night, Miss Cooley told the police, Halsey drove up to her house in an automobile and at the point of a revolver forced her to accompany him. For two hours they drove around, she said, while Halsey pleaded his devotion. She spurned him. Halsey became enraged and struck the girl several times, she said, knocking out two of her teeth. She went to the station with her brother and signed a complaint.

Halsey at the station said his wife was going to have Miss Cooley arrested for alienation of his affections. He denied having a revolver.

PENROSE TAKEN TO HOTEL SUITE IN INVALID CHAIR

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30.—[Special.]—Senator Boies Penrose, invalid chairman of the finance committee, arrived in Washington from Atlantic City tonight in a special car. The senator was driven in his big "red devil" from the station to a palatial new apartment engaged for the winter at the Wardman Park hotel. Arrived there, he had to be wheeled in an invalid chair to his quarters.

Senator Penrose would not talk for publication, but it is known he has come here to be in touch with his colleagues on tariff and tax legislation.

Martial Inquiry Report Reaches London.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—The report by Gen. Strickland, commanding the Cork military district, on his investigation of the origin of the Cork fires has been completed and is now in London, but as yet has not been presented to the cabinet.

Although it was announced that Gen. Strickland's findings would not be published for several days, I was informed today that the report states that the fires were started by black and tans in revenge for an ambush by Sinn Feiners upon comrades earlier the same day.

Would Abolish Force.

The report also will condemn roundly the personnel and morale of the black and tan force and will recommend its abolition. While Gen. Strickland's report will say that subsequent fires were started by unidentified looters, chief blame will be rested upon the military police.

It will be recalled that the first act of Gen. Strickland under martial law in the Cork district was to expel the black and tans from that area.

DUBLIN, Dec. 30.—A serious fight between ten armed policemen and an "Irish republican" force in Main street, Middleton, County Cork, was officially reported here tonight.

The police, while marching through the town at 9:40 o'clock last night, were suddenly attacked. Constable Martin Mullen was shot dead and six others were wounded. The rebel casualties were not learned.

A police convoy from Cork, coming to give assistance, was ambushed two miles from Middleton and a sergeant was seriously wounded.

DUBLIN, Dec. 30.—Catholics of the archdiocese of Tuam are reminded that armed resistance to the crown is unlawful by Archbishop Thomas P. Gilmartin of Tuam in a letter he has just issued, saying:

"Under the new canon law members of secret societies that plot against the church or state are ipso facto excommunicated. Oaths taken by members of such societies have no binding force, and those who joined them must leave. They will also cut their connection with societies whose members may be called upon to commit murder by shooting servants of the crown or civilians."

13 PLANES END FIRST DAY "HOP" ON WEST COAST

Pacific Air Squadron on Way to Panama.

San Diego, Cal., Dec. 30.—Thirteen of the fourteen seaplanes of the Pacific air squadron, which started today on a 3,000 mile flight to Balboa, Canal Zone, completed the first "hop" of their journey today and are berthed in San Bartoleme bay, 400 miles from their starting point.

The dozen planes of the F 5-L division all got through safely, the last one landing at 2:05 p. m., five hours and forty-five minutes after the take-off here this morning. But misfortune overtook NC-5, one of the two great NC seaplanes.

After trying for three and a half miles to leave the water, the plane hit a heavy swell off Point Loma while the aircraft was "taxiing" at the rate of forty miles an hour. The impact buckled the hull near the bow. Water poured through a small hole into the forward compartment, and Lieut. Baugh, in command, realized that to continue further without making repairs would be highly dangerous.

The crippled NC-5 then worked its way back to the naval air station landing. After repairs the plane will make another effort.

For a long time no word was received here concerning the NC-6 and some anxiety had begun to be felt, but early this evening a radio message reported the big plane had "landed" at 4:05 p. m.

EASTMAN LAID IN HERO'S GRAVE; GANG FORGOTTEN

New York, Dec. 30.—Thousands of men and women from all walks of life paid homage to "Monk" Eastman, murdered gangster-soldier, at his funeral in Brooklyn today.

Remindful that his record as a leader in the east side's gang conflicts had been cleansed by his heroic behavior in the world war, the silent throngs gathered about an undertaker's little chapel where his body lay and listened to recitals of the best in his life.

The "Monk," whose real name was William Delaney, was buried in the uniform of a soldier of Company G, 106th infantry, with a Victory medal over his heart and two wound stripes on his right sleeve. An American flag was draped over the casket.

On a silver plate attached to his coffin, inscribed there by soldier friends, was this:

WASHINGTON NEWS
—IN BRIEF—

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.
[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Objections were made in the senate today to the expenditure of $100,000 on the inauguration of President Elect Harding, Senator Borah calling for a fixed limit and expressing the opinion that $10 for the hire of an automobile for the president elect would be sufficient.

President Wilson, following protests by organized labor, vetoed the bill delaying for another year the date on which section 10 of the Clayton act becomes effective.

About 7,000 government employés in the District of Columbia must be dropped, if congress passes the legislative, executive, and judicial appropriation bill in the form in which it has just been completed by a subcommittee of the house appropriations committee. The subcommittee has reduced estimates of $136,000,000 to about $100,000,000.

The New York Central railroad has asked permission to acquire the Chicago Junction Railway company terminal properties at Chicago. This road runs into the stockyards.

Chairman Good prepares to fight against awarding "a single cent" to the shipping board in appropriations.

A bureau of construction and housing would be established in the department of commerce, under a joint resolution introduced today.

The senate adopted a resolution calling on the state department for the records and status of all claims filed against the German governments by Americans.

A bill introduced by Senator Jones provides that all state registration and election officers who discriminated against women seeking to vote be punished.

The nomination of Peter Augustus Jay of Rhode Island to be minister to Roumania was sent to the senate.

Under a resolution introduced by Senator Sutherland, the government would indorse and the public would be asked to contribute to the relief movement for the children of central Europe.

Gold producers alone have not profited by increased prices, Representative Raker told the house, urging his bill to increase the price of gold $10

WILSON VETOES BILL DELAYING CLAYTON R.R. ACT

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30.—[Special.]—Heeding the protests of organized labor, President Wilson today vetoed the bill extending for another year the date on which the interlocking directorate section of the Clayton act, applying to railroads, becomes effective.

The president sent a veto message to the senate in which he declared that "the wholesome effects which its application was intended to produce should no longer be withdrawn from the public and from the common carriers immediately concerned, for whose protection it was particularly designed." Reasons assigned for further delay, the president said, are inadequate.

Conferences among members of the senate and house committees on interstate commerce following the veto developed a tentative program not to attempt to pass the bill over the veto.

The probable course will be to wait until the special session of congress following the inauguration of President-Elect Harding and then revise section 10 of the Clayton act.

Section 10 of the Clayton act is designed to prevent the railroads from purchasing supplies from companies in which officials of the roads are interested. It also applies to dealings in securities between railroads.

As a result of the veto this section becomes effective on Jan. 1. The pending measure provided for an extension of one year.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30.—[Special.]—Heeding the protests of organized labor, President Wilson today vetoed the bill extending for another year the date on which the interlocking directorate section of the Clayton act, applying to railroads, becomes effective.

The president sent a veto message to the senate in which he declared that "the wholesome effects which its application was intended to produce should no longer be withdrawn from the public and from the common carriers immediately concerned, for whose protection it was particularly designed." Reasons assigned for further delay, the president said, are inadequate.

Conferences among members of the senate and house committees on interstate commerce following the veto developed a tentative program not to attempt to pass the bill over the veto.

The probable course will be to wait until the special session of congress following the inauguration of President-Elect Harding and then revise section 10 of the Clayton act.

Section 10 of the Clayton act is designed to prevent the railroads from purchasing supplies from companies in which officials of the roads are interested. It also applies to dealings in securities between railroads.

JUMPS INTO CANAL; EXPOSURE KILLS.

A man believed to be James Duffy died at the People's hospital last night of exposure and shock from either falling or jumping into the drainage canal at Twenty-eighth street.

LANE STOPS HERE ON HIS WAY TO MAYO BROTHERS

Franklin K. Lane, former secretary of the interior, passed through Chicago yesterday on his way to Rochester, Minn., where he will consult the Mayo brothers regarding his health. He stopped at the Blackstone hotel between trains and met only a few acquaintances, leaving on an early train for the northwest.

PENROSE TAKEN TO HOTEL SUITE IN INVALID CHAIR

Washington, D. C., Dec. 30.—[Special]—Senator Boies Penrose, invalid chairman of the finance committee, arrived in Washington from Atlantic City tonight in a special car. The senator was driven in his big "red devil" from the station to a palatial new apartment engaged for the winter at the Wardman Park hotel. Arrived there, he had to be wheeled in an invalid chair to his quarters.

Senator Penrose would not talk for publication, but it is known he has come here to be in touch with his colleagues on tariff and tax legislation.

Evanston Hotel Bellhops Strike and Win Victory

For a period of eight hours yesterday the guests of the North Shore hotel in Evanston were obliged to carry their own ice water and run their own errands. The eight "bellhops" employed there went on a strike as a protest against their long hours. The strike was called off at 6 o'clock last night when the manager agreed to employ a larger number of men.

DUBLIN, Dec. 30.—Catholics of the archdiocese of Tuam are reminded that armed resistance to the crown is unlawful by Archbishop Thomas P. Gilmartin of Tuam in a letter he has just issued, saying:

"Under the new canon law members of secret societies that plot against the church or state are ipso facto excommunicated. Oaths taken by members of such societies have no binding force, and those who joined them must leave. They will also cut their connection with societies whose members may be called upon to commit murder by shooting servants of the crown or civilians."

☐ The Privacy Act of 1974 does not permit the release of a social security number or other personal information to the public without the authorization of the veteran concerned; therefore, we have deleted personal identifying data relating to other persons.

☐ Morning reports and personnel rosters are available for most Army organizations beginning with the year 1912; however, they were discontinued in 1974. EXCEPTION: Personnel rosters for the years 1944, 1945, and 1946 were destroyed in accordance with the General Records Schedule.

☐ Morning reports are available for most Air Force organizations for the years 1947 through 1966.

☐ Morning reports generally contain the name, service number, and rank for those members of the unit who experienced a change in duty status such as discharge, death, temporary duty, absence, return from absence, reassignment, period of hospitalization, etc. They rarely show specific details about a unit's activities or movements, nor do they reflect accidents/injuries that did not result in the hospitalization of the individual(s) involved.

☐ Personnel rosters were prepared on a monthly, quarterly, or semi-annual basis and generally list the name, service number, and rank (but not home address) of all members assigned to the unit on the date the roster was created.

☐ This Center is unable to perform the extensive research you have requested because of staffing and budget limitations. If you wish to verify a specific event or personnel action, please furnish the month/year in which it occurred and we will conduct a limited search for the desired information.

☐ Additional information is needed in order to locate the requested records. Please provide the items indicated below and resubmit your request to this Center for a further search.

☐ This Center is prohibited from releasing prison records except to the U.S. Disciplinary Barracks, Fort Leavenworth, KS. We are, therefore, referring your request to the office shown below for a determination of releasability.

NA FORM 13122 (1-91)

MORNING REPORTS

OF

Company E 108 Engrs.
(Company or detachment.) (Regiment, corps, or department.)

FOR THE MONTH OF

August, 1918

INSTRUCTIONS.

1. This form, which will be known as company morning report, will be used by companies, troops, and batteries of all arms, corps, and departments, by machine-gun companies and troops, and by supply companies and troops. It will also be used by all detachments except headquarters detachments of regiments and mounted battalions of Engineers and detachments of enlisted specialists of the Coast Artillery Corps.

2. The remarks will conform strictly to the model as given on pages 2 and 3. The abbreviations authorized for the pay roll will be used in the remarks on morning reports.

3. The company or detachment commander will attach his initials on the line with and following the last entry of the day under remarks. Care will be taken to make each letter of the initials legible.

4. The station of the company or detachment will be entered on the left of the page devoted to Station and Record of Events and immediately following the day of the month. If there is no change during a ten-day period, the name of the station will be entered only once. On the march the camp or bivouac at the beginning of the day will be regarded as the station of the company or detachment for that day.

5. Actions in which the organization, or any portion of it, has been engaged, scouts, marches, maneuvers, changes of station, and everything of interest relating to the discipline, efficiency, or service of the organization, will be minutely and carefully noted, with dates, places, distances marched, etc., under Record of Events.

6. The name and rank of officers and soldiers killed, missing, or wounded in action, with dates and places, will be accurately noted under Record of Events.

7. Additional sheets will be attached for remarks and for station and record of events, if the space allotted therefor proves insufficient.
